

jonny elliott.

I help people who run small businesses stop being the thing everything waits on.

Some of it is software you run on your own for fifty pounds a month. Some of it is a day a week of me inside the business. Everything has the price written on it, so you never have to sit through a call to find out whether you can afford me.

EVERYTHING I SELL	PRICE
ElliottOS Software you run yourself, no call needed	£50 a month
Website care Hosting, updates, backups and small changes	£75 a month
Stop Firefighting One call a month, and somebody honest in your corner	£500 a month
Get It Built Two calls a month, and the thing finally gets built	£1,000 a month
Runs Without You The system gets written down and starts running without you	£1,500 a month
Website and brand Research, copy, brand, build and your own client portal	From £2,500
The Ninety Day Build Ninety days, fixed scope, fixed finish line	£6,000
Inside A day a week, in the business rather than advising it	£3,500 a month

All of it can be stopped by you, early, at no cost. Not a refund window buried in terms. A specific moment, written down before you pay, where you get to say it is not working and walk. The detail is on the other side.

Where you get to walk.

The three consulting tiers. Come to the first session. If you do not leave it with at least one thing worth more than the month costs, do not pay for the month. You decide that, not me. There is no tie in either way.

A website build. Half up front, half when you have seen it. If the design is not right, say so and we stop there. No balance to pay, and the files and the logins are yours that same week.

The Ninety Day Build. After the first fortnight you will have the map and the first thing off you. If that fortnight has not earned its keep, stop there and the rest does not happen.

Inside. The first month decides it. If at the end of it you would rather I was not in the business, we stop and the other two months do not happen.

Anything digital. If it does not do what the page said it would, tell me and I will refund it. That offer does not run out.

What happens after you buy

1 Open your account

Your name and your email, and that is the whole form. Your login is in your inbox before you have closed the tab. Nothing is charged at this point.

2 Choose from inside it

Every price and what it asks of you sits on the product itself. Card for anything small and monthly, an invoice for a build or a year paid in one go.

3 It all lands in one place

Your project and where it has got to, your documents, what you have bought, and a short list of what is waiting on you.

Start at jonnyelliott.com/shop for the whole list with the prices on it, or jonnyelliott.com/book for twenty minutes with me. I will tell you which of these you need, including when the answer is none of them.
